

Classic BattleTech Technical Readout: 3075™ is the first all-new Technical Readout in more than half a decade. In addition to covering the latest machines of war debuting during the Jihad, it also contains a complete "Age of War" section, covering the very first BattleMechs produced by each House and how are they appearing on the modern battlefield once more. Each machine is illustrated in detail, accompanied by a description of its history, capabilities, game stats, and some of the unit's most famous pilots.
